Planning for Marketing Excellence

Tuesday, March 9, from 11:15 am – 1:30 pm, The Inn at Chester Springs, Route 100 North & Gordon Dr., Exton.
 RSVP: Register by 5pm March 5 and avoid the $5 late fee!

March's speaker is Roberta Perry, Master of PR, a woman who loves to bring people together. Roberta will be talking to us about planning an effective communications plan, something that has been key to her successes through 17 years of bringing visibility to clients in consumer products, professional services and non-profits. Based in Phoenixville, Roberta and her family are enthusiastic supporters of local art, great music and food. Be sure to come to the March luncheon to hear Roberta's take on getting the word out about your business.

Upcoming

Tuesday, April 13 from 11:15 am to 1:30 pm: Joan Walsh of FSMI presents "Effective Networking Techniques to Build Your Business" and explains what you need to know to make your networking efforts pay off.

Lynn Doyle is the May Annual Awards Celebration's Keynote Speaker

The WRN is very pleased to announce that Lynn Doyle, a multi-award-winning journalist and nine-time Emmy recipient, will speak at the May 11 Annual Awards Celebration Luncheon. She is host and executive producer for The Comcast Network's Emmy Award-winning "It's Your Call with Lynn Doyle," and boasts more than 25 years of television news experience.

The Annual Awards Celebration will highlight the winners of four award categories: WRN Business Woman of the Year, WRN Advocate for Women in Business Award, WRN Citizenship Award and the WRN Volunteer of the Year. Nomination forms are available by contacting Executive Director Nina Malone at nmalone@wrnchesco.com, or by download from the www.wrnchesco.com website. Nominees must be WRN members; nominations are due by March 12.

Luncheon," said WRN Board President Paula Paisley of Paisley Accounting and Computer Solutions. "We've added a new award – WRN Volunteer of the Year – to an already comprehensive line-up of recognition. Add in the popular Silent Auction and a top-notch speaker like Lynn Doyle, and you've got an event that can't be beat."

There are multiple opportunities to gain visibility at this high profile event through exclusive Awards, Reception and Speaker sponsorships available at $400 each, and multiple Supporter Sponsors at $200 and Friends at $100. A Silent Auction, offering a limited number of carefully chosen items, will highlight the reception portion of the Celebration. Those forms also are available through Nina or via the Web.

Lorraine Kinslow, of Mary Kay, and Lea Tran, of Distinctive Designs, are co-chairing this Awards Celebration, which promises to be a festive and can't-miss sell-out event. Now is the time to get onboard as a sponsor, to mark your calendar to attend and to make sure you and your invited guests register and pre-pay promptly so you'll be there to honor fellow members, hear Lynn Doyle address the group, enjoy all the festivities as well as take advantage of superb opportunities to network.

Watch for more details to come at the March Luncheon, in eBlasts and at www.wrnchesco.com. Finis

February Luncheon

Taking Care of YOU: February's Speakers Told Us How

Listening to your gut and following up on suspicious signs and symptoms are some of the most valuable things women can do to take care of themselves.

Two experts from The Chester County Hospital, Dr. Dana Weinstein, a cardiologist, and Dr. Melissa Delaney, an OB/GYN, gave February Luncheon attendees the straight scoop about women's health and wellness.

Dr. Weinstein emphasized that women should not overlook symptoms that could be signs of a heart attack, such as heartburn, shortness of breath, radiating pain in the neck and right arm, dizziness, nausea or crushing chest pain. She noted symptoms for women can be different than symptoms for men, and should not be written off as stress or anxiety. Time is of the essence: quick medical attention may save the heart muscle.

Dr. Weinstein (l) and Dr. Delaney answer questions after their "Taking Care of YOU" presentation.

Heart disease is the leading cause of death in U.S. women. Dr. Weinstein encouraged women to pay heed to these risk factors, as almost all can be modified by quitting smoking, decreasing the amount of alcohol consumed, decreasing sodium intake and increasing exercise:

- Hypertension or high blood pressure, the "silent killer"
- Obesity, or being extremely overweight
- High cholesterol
- Diabetes
- A poor diet high in saturated and trans fats, sodium, high fructose corn syrup, etc.

WRN members and guests enjoy the February Luncheon, which taught them how to take better care of themselves.

Dr. Weinstein encouraged the group to seek medical assistance to get risk factors under control, and to explore any unusual symptoms that may be signs of heart issues.

Dr. Delaney's message was "don't suffer!" Women experiencing the following symptoms should consult their doctor:

- Excessive bleeding
- Prolapse, which can lead to bladder and incontinence issues
- Libido issues

Preventive measures are important in the gynecological arena, just as they are in cardiology. Dr. Delaney said a yearly Pap smear and routine mammograms are necessary, despite recent "news" that mammos may not be needed as frequently. She orders yearly Paps to detect HPV and other pre-cancerous changes to the cervix, and routine mammos as indicated by age, family history and/or medical history.

And much like quitting smoking, moderate use of alcohol, diet and exercise positively impact cardiac health, they also help women navigate through menopause, which she terms "a time of freedom for women." These lifestyle changes can help manage issues such as hot flashes, bone health and other concerns. She, too, encouraged the group to partner with their physicians for good OB/GYN health.

Many thanks to Drs. Weinstein and Delaney for sharing this important information. Dr. Weinstein can be reached at 610-692-4382, and has offices in West Chester, Exton and Kennett Square. Dr. Delaney's West Chester office is 610-429-9105.

Looking for a few good advertisers

We're looking for April issue advertisers, targeting businesses such as marketing, public relations, communications and personal coaching to complement our March and April programs on marketing excellence and networking that works. Of course we welcome advertising from any of our members, but we think the opportunities are especially good for businesses that connect with our speakers' presentations in the months immediately preceding and following the programs. It is a great time to capture readers' attention while they are reading about topics that closely correlate with your business service or product.

You can find advertising options in the WRNnews on page 2 and at www.wrnychesco.com (click on Online Newsletter). Contact WRNnews Editor Pam Hesler at pamhesler@comcast.net with questions and to reserve your ad space.

Seeking Leaders for the WRN Board

The WRN is led by the women who serve on its Board of Directors. These women provide the vision and leadership skills that keep the WRN on track as the longest running and most powerful women's networking organization in Chester County.

As part of the WRN's annual process, applications soon will be available to women who would like to serve on the WRN Board of Directors. In the meantime, please contact Board President Paula Paisley with any questions or to let her know about your interest in serving. Paula can be reached at 610-444-2497, ext. 201, or pjpaisley@paisleysolutions.com. Finis

Looking for a free lunch?

We're talking two free lunches here, or a 1/4 page ad in the WRNnews. YOU can win by spreading the word about the WRN.

Here are the details: Bring guests, guests and MORE guests to the March and April Luncheons. The member who brings the most guests to the Luncheons during that two-month period WINS!

It's that simple. Bring the most guests to those Luncheons and you'll get your choice of:

- Two free seats at the May Annual Awards Celebration Luncheon OR
- A 1/4 page ad in the WRNnews.

Invite your business women contacts to our monthly Luncheons. Tell them about the opportunities to meet and renew business contacts as well as our educational programs. The guest rate is only $30 per lunch when pre-registered ($35 for late registrants and walk-ins) for networking, educational presentations and a delicious hot lunch.

Here's what's on-tap for March and April:

- Tues., March 9: Planning for Marketing Excellence
- Tues., April 13: Hands-On Networking

How do you get credit for your guests?

- If they register online, make sure they put your name in the Comments section
- If they send an email, make sure they mention you
- If they're a walk-in, make sure they mention you at the registration desk
- You can also bring the handy coupon below to make sure you get credit

Questions? Contact Executive Director Nina Malone at nmalone@wrnchesco.com or 610-639-9776. Note this contest is for guests brought to Luncheons only. Finis

Yes, you can become a WRN sponsor right now

Already a member and want to be a sponsor? No problem. If you choose a package that includes membership fees, any amount you've already paid will be credited against your sponsorship investment. To read about the options and download the packages, go to www.wrnchesco.com - one of these may be a perfect fit for you and your business, organizing a year's worth of marketing through networking at the WRN. Contact Sponsorship Chair Nanci Hagarty at 610-399-3638 or nanchihagarty@comcast.net, and she will help you select and implement a great sponsor package. Finis

No, Renee Clements (l) isn't the branch manager of the West Chester Franklin Mint Federal Credit Union, that's Sumita Suresh, with the sign's arrow pointing to her. In the February News we titled Renee incorrectly - her real title at the FMFCU is Business Development Director.

Member Spotlight

Linda Jassmond is passionate about helping women get fit

It's hard to picture Linda Jassmond in a business suit selling computer hardware and software. But, that's exactly what she did before she found her calling in the fitness industry.

WRNers know Linda as an energetic ambassador for fitness, always attired in a smart jogging suit and ready to inspire. And while she holds a B.S. in management from West Chester University, she excels at managing health and fitness for her happy clients.

"I was on the road for years, but that wasn't my passion," Linda said. "So the whole time I was in sales I was also teaching aerobics and getting into personal training. That's what I wanted to do."

Linda became certified as a personal trainer in 1987; in 2004 she started her fitness business, Linda S. Jassmond, LLC. And in between, she did something amazing for the WRN: she left the computer industry in 2002 when she became president of the pre-executive director WRN and spent the next two years building the organization.

"I modeled my presidency after Suzanne Jackson's," she noted. "We all made sacrifices to grow the organization, but I was in the fortunate position to make it my full-time 'job' for two years."

Linda uses all the skills she's honed over the years in her personal training business, and her clients benefit. Testimonials speak to Linda's caring style, especially how she listens and tailors her approach to each client's needs.

"There's a value in personal training," she added. "I always say I work above the neck first; it's not just about exercise. It's about lifestyle, and how a woman who wants to incorporate fitness can change her lifestyle for success."

Linda still teaches fitness classes: Pilates, kickboxing, interval step and body sculpting. But it's her one-to-one relationships she values the most.

"I love what I do," she said. "I'm there to make sure my clients succeed."

Linda has chronicled two amazing clients' journeys in her first two books: "Journey to Fitness: Chronicles of a Working Woman" and "Journey to Fitness: Chronicles of a New Triathlete." Books three and four are underway. That and much more can be found at www.fitnesslinda.com.

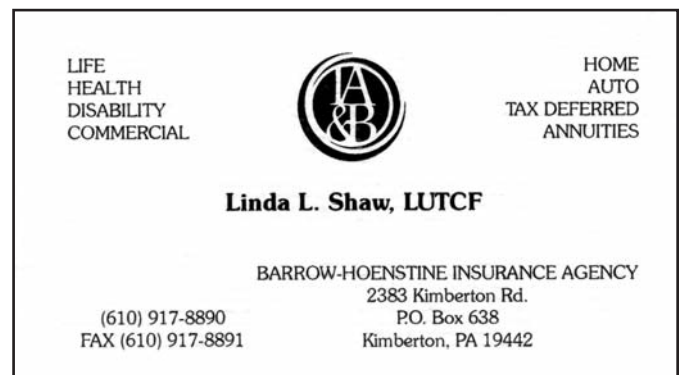

"Women are awesome," she added. "They keep me inspired."

Luckily for those looking to change their lives, Linda shares that inspiration with all. Finis

March Business Card Exchange

Join us at Rowland Printing Group at 751 Pike Springs Rd. (Rt. 113) in Phoenixville on Wednesday, March 17, from 5:30 – 7:30 pm for a WRN Business Card Exchange. Diane Canestra, creative director at Rowland, is our host and has some interesting networking "games" in store. She looks forward to showing you the Rowland facility as well as sharing this great FREE networking opportunity with WRN members and guests. Please RSVP by March 15 to Diane at 610-930-6195 or dcanestra@rowlandgroup.com.

Meet Cary Brooks, new WRN Marketing and PR chairperson

Cary Brooks first visited the WRN at a February '09 business card exchange and became a member the next month.

Formerly with QVC as a web designer, Cary launched her business, E-mail Marketing Concepts & Designs, to offer clients her experience in graphic design, marketing research and coordination with other professionals in marketing and image-making.

When asked what she likes best about the WRN, Cary offered, "WRN is a great networking organization with members from a variety of professions. Coming from working in a corporation for many years, it is refreshing to meet people from small businesses, whose heart and soul goes into their businesses.

"WRN has introduced me to the importance of networking and women who have given me support in establishing my business," Cary added.

When asked what motivated her to accept the Marketing and PR chair position, Cary replied, "I found I want to bring attention to WRN and what it has to offer to other area businesswomen, increase attendance and help build membership."

If you haven't met Cary yet, make sure you introduce yourself. Along with having the WRN in common you may find you also share some of her other interests: "I enjoy my volunteer work with Chester County Art Association, Chester County Historical Society and my Home Owners Association. I love walking, especially at Strouds Preserve. I also love visiting gardening stores - I don't have to buy anything - I just love to look at the flowers. I love my two cats, wish I had a dog and I want take a class in Tai Chi."

Thanks, Cary, for bringing your perspective and experience to volunteering with the WRN as its Marketing and PR chairperson. You can reach her at 610-436-9353 or carybrooksdesign@verizon.net. Finis
